Weber's Named A 2016 Best of +VIP Access Hotel by Expedia.com
Ann Arbor Landmark One of Only 139 Hotels and Resorts in United States to be Honored

Ann Arbor, Mich. – Jan. 12, 2017 – Expedia.com, one of the top online travel sites, announced Weber's, an Ann Arbor landmark, has been named a 2016 Best of +VIP Access property. Chosen from a worldwide, curated collection of more than 3,000 +VIP Access hotels, Weber's was one of only 139 domestic hotels selected for the Best Of honor. The winners must earn the highest guest satisfaction rankings and must be top market performers to be considered for the award.

Other notable winners include The Virgin Hotel in Chicago, Hotel Bel-Air in Los Angeles, Loews Don CeSar resort in St. Petersburg, Florida and The Lodge at Vail.

“Expedia is proud to congratulate the 2016 Best of +VIP Access hotel winners, representing hotel partners that exceed guest expectations at every level,” said Yasmine Bratt, Vice President, Customer Marketing of Expedia. “Guest reviews are a critical piece of our service delivery, and when a property exceeds expectations, we want to celebrate that and do our part to recognize the hotels that make the guest experience their top priority every day.”

Added Weber's President Ken Weber, “As 2017 marks Weber's 80th anniversary, we are proud to once again be recognized as a Best of +VIP Access Hotel by Expedia. This honor is truly a testament to our staff who has continued to provide our guests with exemplary customer service. Creating a seamless and remarkable experience for our clientele is our goal and is the reason why we continue to remain a destination location in the ever-thriving City of Ann Arbor.”

Last spring, Weber's completed a $2 million renovation of its 158 guest rooms and suites. The remodel, which was highlighted by numerous technology-related upgrades, followed a $4 million update to the facility's ballrooms, lobby, pool and exterior façade.
